

Depression

GTH: GATEWAY TO HOPE

What is Depression?

- A mood disorder that affects how you feel, think, and handle daily activities and routines
- Major depression lasts at least two consecutive weeks and is severe enough to interrupt daily activities

Myths

- “It’s not a real illness”
 - Studies of genetics, hormones, nerve cell receptors, and brain function reveal depression can cause mood-regulating nerve circuits in brain areas to function abnormally
- “Teens are unhappy by nature”
 - Many teens are moody, argumentative, but prolonged sadness or irritability is not normal for teens
- “Depression is just self-pity”
 - People with depression are not lazy or simply feeling sorry for themselves

Facts

- Constructive thinking can help
 - Accentuating the positive is a practice called Cognitive Behavioral Therapy & can ease depression by learning new ways of thinking & behaving
- Exercise is good medicine
 - Exercising regularly can improve symptoms of depression and work as well as some medicines for people with mild to moderate depression
- Hope for better days is real
 - In the depths of depression, people may think there's no hope for a better life. This hopelessness is part of the illness, not a reality

Know the Symptoms

- Persistent feelings of sadness, emptiness, hopelessness, helplessness, or worthlessness
- Loss of pleasure in hobbies and activities
- Decreased energy
- Unusual sleep patterns
- Difficulty concentrating and remembering
- Changes in appetite or weight
- Pain without a clear physical cause
- Thoughts of death or suicide or suicide attempts

Risk Factors

- Research suggests depression is caused by a combination of genetic, biological, environmental, and psychological factors
- Many chronic mood and anxiety disorders in adults begin as high levels of anxiety in children

Recovery and Management

- Be active and exercise
- Set realistic goals
- Spend time with other people, do not isolate yourself
- Let others help you
- Expect your mood to improve gradually, not immediately
- Discuss decisions with others you trust
- Continue to educate yourself about depression